Technical Guidance #TG98-006
Rule: 200, Section 303.3c(7)(j)

September 17, 1998
Subject: Determining permit
applicability thresholds.

Issue: Under what conditions does Rule 200, Section 303.3c(7)(j) ("Paragraph J") apply? For example, if you have a printing operation with more than 500 square inches of impression area but which emits less than 3 pounds per day of VOCs, does the operation need a permit?

Discussion: Paragraph J is part of subsection (7) and therefore does not apply to subsections (1) through (6). Therefore, for the example cited above, a permit would be required because the impression area exceeds the 500 square inch limit cited in subsection (3).

Conclusion: Paragraph J does not apply to any type of operation or equipment that is addressed in subsections (1) through (6).
